

Gianessi Presents Lunch and Learn Talk for CLA Staff

On February 8th, Leonard Gianessi presented his talk on the “Importance of Pesticides for Feeding the World” at a Lunch and Learn noon session at CropLife America's D.C. office. Leonard was introduced by Doug Nelson (CLA) who explained how he uses many of Leonard's slides in his presentations to illustrate the benefits that are at stake in legal and regulatory decisions. It was a lively discussion with many comments and questions from the CLA staff. The session was attended by Dr. Tom Herlehy, project chief for Land O' Lakes International Development Africa Program. While echoing many of Leonard's points, Tom brought the perspective of his practical experience in training farmers and applicators in the use of agricultural inputs.
