

Foundation Presentation at CAL EPA

On May 22, CropLife Foundation consultant Leonard Gianessi presented his talk on Herbicide Use Trends in California Crop Production at the annual Pesticide Use Reporting Workshop held at CALEPA offices in Sacramento, CA. The workshop was organized by Minghua Zhang of UC Davis and Larry Wilhoit of CALEPA. Leonard has assembled twenty years of usage records for 60 active ingredients as used on 31 crops from the full-use reporting system maintained by CALEPA. Other presenters covered the use of the database for assessing the impact of fumigant regulations and the use of the data in water modeling and monitoring in the Bay Delta. All of the presentations from the workshop will be available in a month's time on the website: <http://agis.ucdavis.edu/PUR/reports.htm>.

Leonard was pleased to visit with DPR staffer Ann Schaffner, who worked in DC with Bob Schramm for several years under her previous name, Ann Pingatore.
